The Surrender of Port Hudson.

Before daylight on the 8th (July, 1863), Gen. Gardner sent a flag of truce with a communication to Gen. Banks, asking him for confirmation of the news of the fall of Vicksburg. This confirmation, substantiated by copies of the official dispatches, was immediately given, and at 9 o'clock Gen. Gardner sent three commissioners to treat for the surrender. The preliminaries occupied the whole day, and it was not until late in the afternoon that the commissioners returned. An unconditional surrender had been insisted upon, but the terms verbally agreed upon were satisfactory. The enlisted men were to be paroled and set free; the officers would remain prisoners of war, but would be allowed to retain their arms and private property. The ceremony of surrender would take place at 7 o'clock on the next morning. There had been much discussion during th long interview. Our commissioners asked a good deal and defended their pretensions inch by inch, claiming that we could hold the place another month, if not indefinitely, and would hold it unless we got our own terms. When, late in the afternoon, the terms agreed upon had been referred to Gen. Banks, and had received his sanction, Colonel Miles exclaimed, "That's not all! I have another demand to make!" "What!" retorted Gen. C. P. Stone, "are you going to raise new difficulties after all the trouble we have had to come to an agreement? What can you want after we have granted you so much? "Are we not virtually your prisoners, now that we have agreed on the terms?" asked Gen. Miles. "Assuredly."—"Well, you are bound to feed your prisoners. We are tired of our half rations of mule meat and hard corn, and must have a square meal to-night." Gen. Stone burst out laughing. "That's cool," said he. "Here you have been bragging of your ability to hold out as long as you please, and you confess now that you are out of provisions." "It was my duty to make a strong case, but now I am not pleading, the case is settled, and the truth may as well come out," replied Col. Miles, who was a lawyer, and as well known for his hits at the Bar as for his indomitable bravery in the field. "By the by, General," he resumed, "I may as well add that we are about as short of ammunition as of provisions." "We shan't send you ammunition," laughed Stone, "but provisions you shall have, and that speedily." Abundant rations did come that evening, and, what was more precious, medicine for the sick. A large number of Federals entered our lines at different points seeking the particular commands against which they had been pitted, and fraternizing with the men with whom they had been so recently engaged in deadly strife. The enmity of the true soldier ends with the battle, and it is only the coward or the savage who will trample upon the vanquished foe. The marks of respect and sympathy the defenders of Port Hudson received at the hands of Banks's victorious army were as a soothing balm that took away much of the bitterness of defeat. On the morning of the 9th a little over 3,000 gaunt, weather-beaten men formed into line. The remainder of the devoted garrison were lying sick or wounded in the hospital. Two hundred and fifty slept under the green sod of the Port Hudson Hill. Gen. Gardner rode up to the right of the line and awaited the approach of Gen. Andrews, the officer designated to receive the surrender, who, with his staff, preceded the Federal column. On his riding up, Gen. Gardner advanced, and presenting the hilt of his drawn sword to Gen. Andrews, said: "Having thoroughly defended this position as long as I deemed it necessary, I now surrender to you my sword, and with it this post and its garrison." Gen. Andrews replied: "I return your sword as a proper compliment to the gallant commander of such gallant troops—conduct that would be heroic in another cause." This last remark, stereotyped from General Banks's first demand of surrender was properly rebuked by Gen. Gardner's words as he returned his sword to the scabbard with an emphatic clang: "This is neither the time nor place to discuss the cause."

Spurgeon, the eminent London preacher, can utter good common sense truths betimes, as well as sound theological doctrine. In a talk to workingmen on going in debt he likened poverty to a sixth sense, because many debtors seem to have lost the other five, or were born without common sense, for they appear to fancy that one cannot only make debts, but pay them, by borrowing. A man pays Peter with what he borrows from Paul, and thinks he is getting out of his difficulty when he puts one foot in the mud to pull the other out. "It is hard," says Spurgeon, "to shave an egg or to pull hairs out of a bald pate, but they are both easier than paying debts out of an empty pocket."

It happens as with cages, the birds without despair to get in, and those within despair of getting out—that is marriage.—Montaign.

It is claimed by some medical men that smoking weakens the eyesight. May-be it does, but just see how it strengthens the breath.

New Method of Prolonging Life.

We have had several letters about a book entitled "Makrobiotic and Eubanik," a scientific method of prolonging human life. We have not yet been able to procure a copy of the work. It is to be had only in the German language. It is not to be found in our book stores; but a London paper has reviewed it and states that one of the secrets promulgated in this remarkable work is that long life will be reached by continually increasing the use of lemons. After arriving at 40 years of age, the prescription is two lemons per day for a lady, and three for a gentleman, increasing the dose every ten years as long as the person lives. It is said that the author got his idea from the fact that Count Waldeck reached the age of 120 years, and that for years he had eaten a large amount of horse-radish soaked in lemon juice as an antidote to the sluglishness of his liver. It would take more than one experiment to prove the truth of this remarkable history; still there is no doubt that the use of lemon juice may be very beneficial for those who are advancing in age, providing it does not disagree with the stomach. It would certainly have a tendency to thin the blood to some extent, and this would render it easy for the heart, which grows feeble as age advances, to circulate it. Other means of prolonging life might be equally beneficial. As a rule, the older one grows the less fruit he eats, partly from the fact that the teeth become imperfect, and it is difficult to masticate them; but it is evident to us that fruit in proper quantities may be used to great advantage by well persons as well as sick ones.—Herald of Health.

[The lemon should be used much more freely than it is. It is recommended by medical men everywhere; and if the treatise of this German professor of medicine, for such he is, will only render its use more general, it will accomplish a good work. The time is fast coming when, by more general cultivation, the lemon and lime will be offered so cheap that they may be freely used in every household. California and Florida will eventually supply the entire country with the choicest of all the citrus fruits.

A Correspondent writes from Pekin: The street juggler in China is one of the "institutions" of the country, and always excites great wonderment. I saw one of these men the other day swallow nine large needles; then he put a piece of thread into his mouth, and presently drew it forth with the nine needles threaded at regular distances, apart. He also took two empty porcelain cups, which he had previously handed round for inspection, and held them over his head for a moment, and lo! they were filled with water. This was repeated several times. Then the cups were filled with water and placed on the ground, under cover, and as often as the covers of the cups were removed they were found empty. These tricks were performed without apparatus, and the "magician" had his arms bared to the elbow.

The true secret of living well and healthily is to feed appropriately. The chief, if not the only, use of wraps and "warm" surroundings is to avoid the loss of animal heat by abstraction. It is neither scientific nor hygienic, in any true sense, to trust to external sources of supply for the warmth we require to live well, happily, and usefully. The food is more than the raiment, and those who desire to help the poor and melancholy over their "dead points" in the course of life should be chiefly anxious to feed them well and sufficiently. Neither do stimulants give one strength, and are on all accounts, to be avoided.

A handsome young widow applied to a physician to relieve her of three distressing complaints, with which she was affected. "In the first place," said she, "I have little or no appetite. What shall I take for that?" "For that, madam, you should take air and exercise. "And, doctor, I am quite fidgety at night, and afraid to lie alone. What shall I take for that?" "For that, madam, I can only recommend that you take—a husband! "Fie! doctor, but I have the blues terribly; what shall I take for that?" "For that, madam, you have—besides taking air and exercise and a husband—to take the newspaper."

A promising youth recently surprised his father by asking—"Father, do you like mother?" "Why, yes, of course." "And she likes you?" "Of course she does." did she ever say so?" "Many a time, my son." "Did she marry you because she loved you?" "Certainly she did." The boy carefully scrutinized his parent, and, after a long pause, asked: "Well, was she as near-sighted then as she is now?"

It is singular that no man, who complains 365 days in the year that his taxes are just eating him up, never thinks of saving money by giving away his property.

A statistical barber in Philadelphia says that the largest eared men want their hair cut the shortest.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Aug. 2nd, 1880.

The Democratic Press is loud in its praise of Hancock's letter of acceptance considering it as above "criticism, ringing with patriotic sentiment, the sword of a patriot." We always expect much during a canvass, and mere platitudes praised as immortal thoughts, but for anyone to seriously consider the extraordinary document called Hancock's acceptance, as the recorded thoughts of a statesman is the hight of absurdity. That between Tanner, and Hancock's expected letter, the public was wrought up to a highly electral condition, and the let down has been exhausting. This letter of acceptance is perhaps all that could be expected from a man whose whole life had been spent in field and in camp. It is a smoothly written document, and, contains as many truisms as were ever massed together in the same space.

The object of the writer was evidently, to say nothing in the most powerful language he could command, and he has succeeded beyond all conjecture. His acceptance of the late Constitutional amendments is the only strong thing in his letter. But why should Hancock come out and give support to those amendments? for they are as much a part of the Constitution as the first article is a part of it. Why should not Mr. Garfield have done the same thing? Because it was unnecessary. Everyone knows that the amendments will be respected by the Republican party, while General Hancock thinks it essential to record a promise that the Democracy will do the same thing. He knows it is necessary to proclaim his party's loyalty, but thoughtful Northern Democrats will not thank him for it. The rest of the letter is made up of dignified platitudes. It contains nothing about the financial question, and nothing about civil service or tariff. It does, however, acknowledge that the war is over, and that it is necessary to have peace. Well, does the Republican party stand in the way of peace? Has not the government done enough for the Southern citizen? Must the Government apologise for enforcing the laws? There is simply nothing in the letter but a dreary waste of nothingness. Yet Hancock has a notion about civil service reform. He has heard somewhere, that "public office is a trust" and not a bounty, and he has no reason to doubt it, and the way to get civil service reform is "just as easy." Set upon high standard of qualification and elect good men, and then let them make good appointments. What is easier? Strange that no one had discovered this before. It has been wickedly suggested that the united wisdom of the Democratic leaders would be drawn upon to furnish this long expected expression of the candidates sentiments and purposes. There have been alleged consultations, but if they were ever suggested they certainly never took place, for not a practical idea mars the sweet inanity of the letter, and it must be Hancock's own. It will be difficult to "swear it on" anyone else. Some useful literary friend might have helped him to smooth the gentle periods that seem to flow so softly, but no practical politician ever had sight of this precious puerility. It gives us altogether a new view of the "superb," a front view of a very baby in politics, and if the Democrats are satisfied, as they say they are, I do not see as the Republicans have reason to complain, for I think it will do what the "hasty plate of soup" did for his namesake, make him an object of ridicule to statesmen and sound politicians.

PACHECO FOR CONGRESS.—Ex-Governor Pacheco has been nominated for re-election to Congress by the Fourth District Republican Congressional Convention. We are glad that the Convention has acted thus wisely. Mr. Pacheco has been in Congress just long enough to get the "hang of the house," and his re-election will strengthen his influence, and the experience he has will be of much importance to the people of this State and this District in future legislation. Mr. Pacheco is deservedly popular throughout the length and breadth of the Fourth Congressional District, and we believe he will be triumphantly elected by a large majority.

Ex-Governor Bigler, of Pennsylvania, Brother of the late Governor Bigler, of California, died at Clearfield, Pa., on Monday ult.

REPUBLICAN NOMINATIONS.

The Republican State Convention assembled in Sacramento on Wednesday and nominated the following ticket:

Electors at Large—J. F. Miller, Napa; Henry Edgerton, Sacramento. Alternates Henry Covell, Santa Cruz; W. T. Garrett, San Francisco.

First District—Claus Spreckles, San Francisco. Alternate—Charles Kohler, San Francisco.

Second District—Charles N. Fox, Alameda. Alternate—James A. Louthitt, San Joaquin.

Third District—W. W. McKaig, Colusa; Alternate—Samuel Cassidy, Sonoma.

Fourth District—T. R. Bard, Ventura. Alternate—Walter S. Moore, Los Angeles.

Congressmen—First District, Horace Davis, San Francisco; Second District, H. F. Page, El Dorado; Third District, George A. Knight, Humboldt; Fourth District, Romualdo Pacheco, San Bernardino.

The Campaign is now fairly inaugurated, The Democratic ticket having been nominated sometime ago. The electors on the Republican are well-known to the people of this State, and General Miller and Hon. Henry Edgerton will command and receive the full support of their party, and so will the rest of the ticket. Now let every Republican buckle on his armor and go into the great battle with a firm resolution to secure the election of Garfield and Arthur in an honorable manner.

Baline is Coming.

The S. F. Bulletin has reliable information that Hon. James G. Blaine will visit California early in October and remain in the State ten days or two weeks, and will address the people several times. A visit from Senator Blaine will be of great benefit to the Republican cause in California and Nevada—he having been the first choice of the Republicans of these States for the Presidency, and he will be received with an enthusiasm that could not be kindled through the presence of any other civilian in America. He is as much the idol of the masses of the Republican party of to-day, as was Henry Clay of the noble old Whig Party of his day; for James G. Blaine is the "Harry Clay" of the present.—Bodie

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

THE BODIE TEMPLARS.—The special train with the Knights Templar left San Francisco for Chicago on Tuesday afternoon The train consisted of eleven cars. The first was a baggage car, the next a drill car, and the other nine sleepers. The name of each Commandery is painted on the car it occupies. That of "Bodie" has "Baby" painted in large letters under the name—it being the youngest Commandery in the State. The Bodie party consisted of twenty-two men and one lady—San Francisco being the only one having a larger number of men. The party consistsd of F. Owen Master Gilson, H.E. Watson, A. Grant, R. Wing, C. F. McKinney, O. H. Kister, J. C. Turner, James Sparrow, G. H. Bump, A. B. Stewart, A. H. Allen, J. E. Goodall, W. W. Dunlap, C. A. Wilson, Wm. Gill, J. A. Caldwell, John D. Smith, George Gilson, F. K. Bechtel, Mrs. Bechtel and two others. The Bodie "boys" had charge of the Grand Standard, which was consecrated on Sunday in San Francisco with imposing ceremonies.

ROBBERY.—A bold robbery of jewelry occurred on Wednesday morning by James English cleaning out a booth on Main street, opposite this office. Officer Roberts obtained private information of the fact, but not from the source stated in the Free Press, and repaired to the booth; but saw nor heard nothing out of the general order of things and soon left the spot, but English was inside the booth doing his work, he having removed a board in the sidewalk and crept up into the booth, bagging about $200 worth of jewelry. English left town and has been captured in Sonora.

GOOD TEMPLARS.—Mono Lodge, I. O. G. T., installed its new officers on Saturday night last, as follows: W. Fall, W. C. T.; T. H. Oxman, W. S.; W. H. Adams, W. F. S.; Mrs. Sawyer, W. T.; Miss Hayden, W. V. T.; H. E. Heckathorn, W. M.; Miss Jennie Lern, W. L. H. S.; Mrs. Band, W. R. H. S.; James Adams, W. O. G.; Mr Mumford, W. I. G.; C. C. Brock, P. W. C. T. The new Lodge starts out under favorable auspices. It had some thirty charter members, and promises to work a good influence in our community.

NOT COMPLETE.—The Sacramento Record Union publishes what it says is a complete report of the census of this State, and puts Mono down as having a population of 5,416. Mono county is not complete, the above figures, being the popul. of Bodie only. Antelope, Bridgeport, Benton, Homer District and Mammoth are yet to be added to the above, and which will increase it about 1,000.

TOWN LOTS.—Judge Briggs has located in the U. S. Land office for the purpose of receiving applications for deeds to town lots agreeably with the town-site survey. He has already received a large number of applications, and is desirous of having lot owners come forward as soon as possible and file their applications. Mrs. L. C. Stratton has the necessary blanks and will assist applicants in getting their titles.

GOING.—Our town is beginning to be too warm for the roughs and vagrants, and they are daily leaving for pastures new. Many others, unable to find employment here, are leaving. A large number left on Sonora fruit teams this morning. Our town will soon settle down to a staid moral settlement, and be a better business place than it has been for sometime past.

BE ON TIME.—Superintendent Steele, of the Oro mine, gives due notice that all bills against the Oro mine must be presented to him on or before the 1st of each month, otherwise they will have to lay over for a month. So have your bills in by the 1st if you want your pay on the 10th of the month.

A CORNER.—Tanner, having completed his forty-days fast, has created a "corner" on watermelons, and no Bodieite can procure one for less than 10 cents a pound—or from $1 25 to $2 50 a piece. At these prices the demand is not very great, although once in a while a millionaire comes along and buys one.

NOTARY.—Governor Perkins has reappointed L. E. Tubbs a Notary Public for Mono county, to reside at Mammoth City.

George M. Gill, of Bodie, has also been appointed a Notary in place of Paul W. Benneti, resigned. Mr. Gill will have his office in Judge Bennett's, in Occidental Hotel.

FINE PEACHES.—The finest peaches brought to Bodie this Summer arrived for E. F. Gibson, Union Fruit Market this morning. Lovers of this fruit, as well as of plums, tomatoes, etc., will buy of Gibson.

DAILY MAIL.—By direction of the Postmaster General the Bodie and Bridgeport mail service will be increased to a daily—seven days, on Monday next.

VAGRANT ACT.—The "Vagrant Act" has been posted in town by Sheriff Taylor—a move in the right direction.

NEW POSTMASTER.—David Block has been appointed Postmaster at Mammoth City.

LOOMING.—The Court House begins to loom up, the carpenters pushing the work in good style.

BODIE TOWN-SITE.

BODIE, August 10 '80.

EDS. CHRONICLE:—Please answer through your paper, as information to your subscribers, the following questions:

The cost of acquiring title to lots in Bodie (Itemized)?

What is required to prove up or get a deed from the Judge?

When will the time for application expire?

Is the Judge required by law to open an office in "Bodie" or are applicants compelled to go to "Bridgeport."

If the Judge is compelled to remain in Bridgeport, cannot he appoint a Deputy to act in his absence or cannot the Court Commissioner act in the absence of the Court?

INFORMATION.

The owner or owners of town lots in Bodie must file an application for said lot or lots, with a diagram of the property and abuttals, properly sworn to. Upon filing said application, Judge Briggs, to whom the town-site is deeded in trust for the benefit of the owners of lots, will issue his certificate, and if there is no contest as to the ownership of the property applied for, he will issue a warranty deed at the expiration of six months. The costs will not exceed $10 a lot, and probably not so much in many cases. This will include making application, affidavit, cost of deed and the land. All applications must be filed with Judge Briggs, the Court Commissioner having no authority to act for him. The Judge is not compelled to stop in Bodie to attend to this business, but wishing to accommodate our people and save them all the expense he can, he will remain here a reasonable length of time to receive applications and issue certificates, and those who neglect to avail themselves of this opportunity to get their deeds will have to go to the expense of visiting Bridgeport.

A Damaging "Flash."

During the recent visit of Hon. Wm. F. White, one of the Bank Commissioners, and, last year, the Workingmen's candidate for Governor, the "lightning flash" reporter of the Bodie Free Press pretended to have had an interview with him, and after his departure the Free Press published the result of the interview, which the Sacramento Bee copied, prefacing it with a few remarks relative to Mr. White's appointment as Bank Commissioner. It having come to the notice of Mr. White, he writes to the Bee as follows,

SANTA CRUZ, Aug. 9, 1880.

Editor Bee—Dear Sir: My attention has been called to the following in the Alta of the 6th inst:

Kearney's influence got W. F. White nominated for Governor, and a desire on the part of Democrats to kiss and make up with the Workingmen caused Governor Irwin to appoint the same White on the Bank Commission. And yet, but a few days ago, in a chat with a reporter of the Bodie Free Press, the following conversation took place:

Reporter—What influence will Kearney have this Fall?

White—None at all. He is as dead as Hugh Glenn. He is not the man I took him to be, and is not, I fancy, particularly honest. The people of this State won't follow a knave and blackguard; they are too intelligent.—Sacramento Bee

From our personal relations and from all I know of you, I feel sure you would not knowingly help to misrepresent me. I will ask you, therefore, to allow me to say in the Bee that no interview of any sort has taken place between myself and the reporter of the Bodie Free Press or of any other paper in Bodie; that I never had such an interview as the above with any paper in or out of the State. It has been gotten up out of whole cloth and is infamously false in every particular, and expresses just the reverse of my sentiments in regard to Denis Kearney.

I trust the papers that have given a place to this pretended lying interview from the Bodie paper, will be just enough to give this refutation a place in their columns. I remain yours truly, WM. F. WHITE.

The above is a strong indictment, and it does not speak well for the Free Press a paper that claims to be reliable in its reports of local affairs. The above is not the only local item that has appeared in that paper, and manufactured out of whole cloth, with not a word of truth in it.

New Suits.

The following new suits have been commenced in the Superior Court:

John Bird vs. Mary Gline; Kittrell & Owen, and Huffaker.

J. W. Hemenway vs. Thomas M. Forrest.

J. M. Land vs. Stanford M. Co.; Reddy & Barry.

Frank H. Rollins vs. Maryland Con. M. Co.; Reddy & Barry.

Transfers of Real Estate.

The following deeds have been recorded in the County Recorder's office:

Aug. 3.

James Stewart to G. L. Porter, lot on corner of Fuller and Green streets, Bodie, $1,000

L. and F. M. Post to P. Reddy, lot in Lundy, $500.

Aug. 5.

J. M. Land to John Flood, lot on Green street, Bodie, $20.

B. F. Butler to I. Frankenburger & Wm. Davison, lot east of Butler's dwelling, Bodie, $75.

Aug. 7.

John O'Keefe to J. J. Mahoney, lot in Bodie.

John S. McHatten to Geo. C. Gorham, Jr., land in S. 22 and 23, T. 4, M. D. N. R. 28 E.

Jos. M. Jones to B. R. Taylor, lot on east side of Fuller street, Bodie, $500.

Aug. 9.

J. M. Harney to David D. Bowen, land S. 6, T. 3, N. R. 23 E.

Lorillard's famous racers, Parole, Falsetto, Slydance, Papoose and Wyandotte, left England on Saturday last for New York. The venture seems to have been a profitable one for Lorillard.

Dr. Tanner says he has been offered the sum of $2,700 to deliver ten lectures in California. He had better get his money before coming here, as $2,700 is not so easily picked up in California.

COUNTY SEAT ITEMS.

[From the Bridgeport Union].

THE SHRIEVALTY.—As the time approaches for the election of county officers, the claims of candidates are being discussed, and it is evident that party lines will not be strictly drawn during this campaign, a disposition being shown to let well-enough alone. One of the most important officers to be elected is that of Sheriff. The incumbent, P. B. Taylor, is a candidate for that position, subject to the nomination of the Republican Convention. His extraordinary canvass last September exhibited unmistakable evidence of popularity, and he is no less popular this day than then. His supporters then, will "stand in" again with renewed energy and strength. And why? Because he has faithfully discharged the duties "appertaining or otherwise belonging to" his office; unprejudiced he selected from the Democratic ranks efficient and popular Deputies; in his official dealings with the public he has been honest; in official intercourse with individuals he has always eschewed harshness, and been as mild as circumstances permitted. We trust that the Republicans will consult the public interest and nominate Sheriff Taylor.

Under Sheriff Massey, also, is a candidate for Sheriff—subject to the Democratic nomination. John M. Massey has largely contributed to the good-will extended to Sheriff Taylor. Thoroughly conversant with the duties of the office in all its details; efficient and pleasant in their execution; character above reproach; popular with the masses, he is the best and strongest man his party could nominate. With Taylor and Massey in the field, Democrats and Republicans could sincerely congratulate upon the election of a good man for the office of Sheriff.

TOO THIN!—The Index is in favor of a big tax this year, that the county finances may be placed on a cash basis, and takes exceptions to our wishing the future to help pay the county indebtedness. This is all very well for the Index, which is not taxed this year, to have a big tax collected from the Free Press, Standard-News and Chronicle, in order that it may have but little to pay next year, but how about the $50,000 and $200,000 taxpayers? Are they willing to pay an additional one per cent. that a few dollars may remain in the pockets of the Index man next year. It is impertinence in a non-taxpayer to advise the Board of Supervisors to levy a high tax.

SCORING.—Judge Wiggin terribly scored a Bodieite, who has been summoned as a trial juror. In the case of Sam Chung, on Wednesday, the juror in question was "prejudiced." The Judge lectured him severely. He said there had been several murder cases, and in every instance, without knowing the parties or anything about the cases, he was "prejudiced;" that being under oath he was compelled to believe him. But, continued the Judge, "You appear here next Monday, in the Baker case, and I charge you to hold no conversation with any one about the case and then I will see if you are "prejudiced." You bet he is "prejudiced" gainst Judge Wiggin.

WHAT'S OUT?—Speaking of the "Boulder County Mining, Tunneling, Milling, Land and Town Company," the Index says;

"We Know nothing about the company in question, but the chances are it is a fraud; companies with so much name don't generally amount to any thing else, and their stock is usually a good thing to give away to somebody you don't like, so that the assessments may eat up his substance."

How about the Homer Land, Water, Mill and Mining Company? Has it given the Index some stock, and "eaten up its substance;" and driven Curry out. It looks so!

A GOOD WORD.—As the people of Bridgeport are growling about the large number of house flies which abound here, we will say a good word for the pests. Note them dart hither and thither. Then see them settle down and stroke their backs with their hind legs. What are they doing? Cleaning themselves! No! Simply setting a table for a square meal. Every dart covers their bodies with insects, and the more impure the air, the more food they get in this manner. Take a microscope and see the big fellows the fly bags in this way.

WHO!—Who will succeed Judge Wiggin of the Superior Court, is a question of interest and importance to the people of Mono County, so says the Index.

We think the Judge will succeed himself. We do not think there will be any opposition to his nomination by the Republican Convention, and he cannot be beaten by a Democrat.

BALL.—As the floors and roof of the new Court House will be completed before the 9th day of September, we suggest that our citizens give a ball on that day—the anniversary of the admission of California into the Union. Let the entertainment be under the management of the ladies, and for the benifit of our public school.

SUSPENSION.—The Index says the CHRONICLE is to suspend shortly. If the Folger Brothers live until next April the CHRONICLE will enter upon its Twentieth volume. But we doubt if the Index will live to note he fact. As our interests do not clash with the Index, its item was uncalled for.

THE NUMBER.—During this term of the Superior Court about 250 trial jurymen have been summoned.

SAM CHUNG'S TRIAL.—The trial of Sam Chung, for the murder of P Encenos, was commenced on Thursday last, the jury was as follows:

W. Harrison, A. J. Busch, P. G. Hughes, Jos. Anderson, Wood Larsen, J. M. Campbell, J. H. Connell, H. Goodshaw, J. W. Wiley, C. Telge, D. Hays, J. F. Crowell.

TAXES.—On Tuesday next the Board of Equalization will meet and hear objections why certain assessments should not be raised. It will also pass upon applications for reductions.

LIME.—The furnace having been finished, lime-burning will commence next week.

WILL RAISE.—The Board of Supervisors contemplate the raising of the assessment roll about $2,500,000. This will make a total assessment of about $4,700,000—just what it ought to have been.

KILLING TIME.—Many of the unfortunates who are attending Court as jurors or witnesses while away spare time by fishing, and generally with good results.

BRICKS.—About 6,000 bricks per day are being made, and within the next two weeks a kiln of 125,000 will be ready for firing up.

CARED.—On Tuesday last the school opened under the management of Miss Carrie Havens, a teacher, who comes from Oakland highly recommended.

HARD TO FIND.—It is hard to find a Democrat around Bridgeport. Show us one and we will show ten Republicans. The vote will show, and don't you forget it.

ANOTHER.—We learn that John W. Stewart contemplates the erection of a fine residence i ntown.

THROWN OUT.—The case of Henry Martin, indicted for the murder of an Indian, was thrown out of Court.

NEW COMERS.—Within the past two months several families have removed to this place from Bodie.

AT BODIE.—Judge Briggs is in Bodie attending to the town-site survey business. He will probably remain about three weeks.

THE WEATHER.—Warm days, and cool evenings and nights are the rule.

NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY.—George P. Rowell & Co., the great advertising agents, of New York, have favored us with a copy of their American Newspaper Directory, containing accurate lists of all the newspapers and periodicals published in the United States, Territories, and Canada, together with a description of the town in which they are published. It is a work of 1044 pages, and is a valuable work for the great advertisers of our country, as well as to the journalist.

The Democracy are fond of claiming a large soldier vote for Hancock. The New York Herald reduces the claim to cold facts in this way: Hancock, during the war, served only in the Army of the Potomac, which contained about one-fifth of the volunteers in the service at the close of the rebellion. Only one-fourth of these, or 40,00 men, were under the command of Hancock. As one-half of these were Democrats, it follows that not more than 20,000 soldiers with Republican leanings could have been brought into close enough relation with him to influence their votes. Not more than half of these are now living. This leaves 10,000 soldiers to make up that stampede for which the Democrats have been waiting for a month. And even this number will doubtless have to be divided by ten to get at the truth.

AND DON'T YOU FORGET IT.—A prominent young gentleman, not more than ten squares from the freight depot; and who has hitherto been one of the staunchest Democrats, and willing at all times to show cause for the faith that was in him by planking down in favor of the Democratic tiger, has of late shown strong symptoms of political nausea and disgust for Democratic food as prepared for Presidential diet. On Saturday he presented himself at a Republican primary voting place and offered a ticket. His heretofore well-known Democratic standing led to his being put to the test of sincerity by requiring him to state upon oath whether he would vote for the Republican local ticket, and for Garfield and Arthur as Presidential nominees, to which he emphatically responded, "I will if I live, and don't you forget it." His vote was received, and several others of the same class during the afternoon.—Sacramento Record-Union.

Al. Livingstone of Genoa, while on his way to Carson Monday morning, stopped at the saloon at the head of Jack's Valley, kept by a German familiarly known as "Old Hannes," and discovered the proprietor lying on the floor dead. He was murdered by unknown parties for $100.

Four stacks of wheat valued at $1,200, were burnnd on the ranch of Dr. Glenn in Colusa on the 9th.

The Neveda Republican State Convention nominated R. M. Daggett for re-election to Congress.

The total population of Nevada, not including Humboldt and Lincoln counties, is 53,394.

It is stated that General Schenck cannot live long; he is in feeble health, being afflicted with Bright's disease, and is 71 years of age. General Schenck is now in Vermont.

The harvest throughout Russia is reported to be poor. Drafts on California's wheat fields will be duly honored.

Some of the Kansas people pronounce the supposed Benders, who have confessed to so many crimes, to be imposters.

BODIE CHRONICLE.

THE CHRONICLE.

BODIE, AUGUST 14, 1880.

CUT THIS OUT AND SAVE IT.—A correspondent writes to an exchange as follows, about the leaves of a well-known plant:

"I have discovered a remedy for consumption. It has cured a number of cases after they commenced bleeding at the lungs and the hectic flush was already on the cheek. After trying this remedy to my own satisfaction, I have thought philanthropy required that I should let it be known to the world. It is the common mullein, steeped strongly and sweetened with coffee sugar, and drank freely. Young or old plants are good, dried in the shade and kept in clean bags. The medicine must be continued from three to six months, according to the nature of the disease. It is very good for the blood vessels, also. It builds up and strengthens the system, instead of taking away the strength. It makes good blood, and takes inflammation away from the lungs.

It is the wish of the writer that every periodical in the United States, Canada and Europe, should publish this recipe for the benefit of the human family. Lay this up, and keep it in the house ready for use.

An oil for lubricating small articles, and one that will remain fluid in varying temperatures, is thus described by the Journal of Industry: Take olive oil and dissolve it in boiling alcohol, add it drop by drop to the hot alcohol, until it is no longer taken into solution. Upon cooling, it will fall crystals, and leave a considerable portion still fluid; the fluid part is to be poured off, filtered through a piece of white blotting paper, and either used in this form, or the alcohol may be distilled off for fresh processes, and the pure lubricating oil which will remain can be obtained for oiling watches and delicate machinery. This will not oxidize or gum up, and will remain perfectly fluid even when exposed to great cold.

Prof. Proctor thus sums up the effect of climate upon mortality: "Fewer persons than usual die after a bitter winter, not because such a winter is favorable to life, but because it kills off many of the weaker lives during its progress; and more than usual die after a mild winter, not because such a winter is unfavorable to life, but because it leaves alive many who would have died during its progress had it been of the average sort."

"Wouldn't you like to have a bow?" said the bold young archer, as they sauntered down the field; and she murmured, "Yes," and the absorbed archer said, "What kind of a bow would you prefer?" She quivered a little as she replied, archly, "I think I should prefer yew;" and then the youngman took it in, and although he was an arrow chested youth, he went to the target and heaved a bull'asigh.

At a dog fancier's:

A young lady is about to purchase a little bull terrier.

"Does he bark much? I'm very nervous, and I can't stand a barking dog."

"Oh, no, madame. Quiet as a cat. If he were sleeping at the foot of the bed, and somebody came in and robbed and murdered you he would never stir."

English women are never contented until they have found a use for everything. They are happy now because they have discovered that an old silk hat can be made into a work-basket. The crown is embroidered, the brim and lining covered with fluted material, and loops and pockets are set inside, as in any work-basket.

The New York Times asks: "Can women enjoy a heaven deprived of weddings?" That depends. If new styles of bonnets make their appearance every other week, women will manage to feel happy without a marriage to their back.—Norristown Herald.

A gentleman recently lost his wife, and a young miss of six, who came to the funeral, said to his little daughter of about the same age, "Your pa will marry again, won't he?" "Oh, yes!" was the reply; "but not until after the funeral!"

A traveler says it is true that many young Russians will eat candles. Of course they will; they eat up the candles so that they may kiss in the dark.

A two foot rule—Don't wear tight shoes.

A Boston theatrical company recently played a scene laid in a church so naturally that to many of the audience it seemed so real that they went to sleep.

It is the hardest thing in the world to find a man to run for office in Turkey. The government has nothing left to steal.

The British Medical Journal says that garlic will cure more ills and ailments than any five drugs which can be named.

A head properly constituted can accommodate itself to whatever pillows the vicissitudes of fortune may place under it.

American girls are admired abroad whenever they show themselves. The Herald says "they are the world's fair."

A man cannot possess anything that is better than a good woman, nor any thing that is worse than a bad one.

Saratoga is the only place where, according to Dr. Cuyler, the more a man drinks the more sober he feels.

JUST OUT!

HOOD'S GREAT BOOK OF THE WAR.

ADVANCE AND RETREAT; Personal Experiences in the United States and Confederate States Armies.

BY GENERAL J. B. HOOD, Late Lieutenant-General Confederate States Army.

Published for the HOOD ORPHAN MEMORIAL FUND, BY GEN. G. T. BEAUREGARD. New Orleans, 1880.

THE ENTIRE PROCEEDS ARISING FROM the sale of this work are devoted to the Hood Orphan Memorial Fund, which is invested in U. S. Registered Bonds for the nurture, care, support and education of the ten infants deprived of their parents last Summer at New Orleans, the melancholy incidents of which sad bereavement are still fresh in the public mind.

The book is an elegant octavo, containing 360 pages, with a fine photograph likeness and a fine steel engraving, made expressly for this work, four large maps of battle fields, bound in handsome gray English cloth, at $4; or in a fine sheep binding, with marble edge, $4 50; in half-bound morocco, library style, $4, or in best Levant Turkey morocco, full gilt sides and edges, $5.

On the receipt from any person remitting by mail or express, of the amount in a registered letter, or by postal order, bank draft or check a copy will be immediately sent free of postage, registered as second-class matter.

The volume is published in the best style of typography, on elegant paper, with illustrations executed as highest specimens of art.

The author, the subject, the purpose, all alike render it worthy a place in every library, on every desk, or upon the book shelf of every house in the country.

Agents wanted in every town and county in the United States, and a preference will be given to honorably discharged veterans from the army.

To the ladies, who feel a desire to express their sympathy with the "Hood Orphan Memorial Fund," the sale of this book among their circle of friends will afford an excellent way of contributing substantial aid to so deserving a cause.

For terms, rates to agents, etc., address with full particulars,

GEN. G. T. BEAUREGARD, Publisher, On behalf of "The Hood Memorial Fund." New Orleans, La.

BIG MEADOWS AND BODIE TOLL ROAD.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT THE rates of tolls on the BIG MEADOWS AND BODIE WAGON ROAD are as follows:

Buggy team	$ 50
Loaded wagon and two animals	1 00
Each additional pair of animals	50
Horse and man	25
Pack Animals, each	25
Hogs and sheep, each	3
Loose stock, each	5
Empty teams half-price.

The Road Company is entitled to collect, by authority of the Supervisors, $1 00 on each buggy team, and, also, fifty cents on each trail wagon, but, wishing to favor the teamsters in all ways, it concluded to make the above reductions, and, at the same time, to keep its roads in the best of order for travel. If any toll-gate keeper collects more tolls than the amounts set forth above, the person so imposed upon will confer a favor by reporting the same to the undersigned.

No deadheads will be permitted to pass on the road.

All tolls will be required to be paid at the time of passing the toll gates, as no credit is given.

Any toll keeper giving credit will be discharged.
